

2012 Olympic and Paralympic Sailing competitions. Accommodation with easy access.

For those who would appreciate easy access, Ellwood Cottages could be the answer!

Located less than an hour away from the Weymouth and Portland National Sailing Academy, situated in a beautiful and tranquil part of Dorset, the cottages offer that unique combination of not only accessibility but luxury and practicality.

Individuals or a group of up to 12 could be accommodated, along with ample parking for boats and storage of equipment. Use could be made of the large recreation room for group get-together's and the gardens and heated indoor pool to relax in. There is also free broadband access for those who can't survive without Twitter or email!

The three tastefully furnished self-catering cottages, named after Dorset literary figures, Hardy, Barnes and Blyton, are in a courtyard setting in lovingly restored single storey former farm buildings full of character and charm.

Adjacent to the cottages is a heated indoor splash-pool. There is a large recreation room with libraries for both children and adults and a selection of games and toys, and a therapy room next door where visiting therapists offer 'pure-pampering' - and no journey home afterwards!

The cottages are fully accessible and all have two bedrooms sleeping three in Hardy, four in Barnes and four adults and two children in Blyton Cottage (single beds in all three cottages).

Outside, the landscaped gardens have a seating area for each cottage and the views over farmland are stunning.
